CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

THURSDAY, MARCH 18, 1875.

THE Sacramento Record-Union is a corporation of no mean dimensions. Its capital stock is $250,000.

By order of Congress, a great dental operation is to be performed. The mouth of the Mississippi is to be opened and the snags removed.

SENATOR JONES' bill for coining twenty cent pieces having become a law, we may soon expect an abatement of the bit nuisance. A thing worth ten cents cannot be priced at a bit and sold for fifteen cents for want of change.

MCDIVITT, CAMPBELL & CO., 111 Nassau street, New York, have issued parts two and three of the TILTON-BERCHER trial. Altogether these publishers have printed about eleven hundred double-column pages of the details of this remarkable trial, and it is probable that the case is not more than half through.

PARSON BROWNLOW has gone back to his first love—editing a newspaper. He says the position is one of more honor and responsibility than that of being a United States Senator. He writes: "Small men, with plenty of money and no brains, crawl into the Senate as the snail crawled to the top of the pyramid; but such fellows can't run a great newspaper."

The advance in real estate in and about this city has been very great within the past six months. The rapid increase in population has created a strong demand for building property, and the certainty of an early increase in railroad facilities has established a firmness in land transactions that astonishes the most sanguine of our oldest inhabitants. It is noticeable that the enhancement in the value of landed property is not confined to any particular locality or section, but is felt in all parts of the city. The most striking advance, however, is in East Los Angeles, where we are informed, land, especially desirable lots for residences, has trebled in value within the last six weeks. The prosperity of Los Angeles is unequalled by that of any other city in the State.

THE city or county, one or the other, or both together, ought to provide a place in which to keep people who are not violators of the laws and yet their condition renders it necessary that they be retained in custody. It looks badly and partakes strongly of the inhuman to thrust a mildly insane person into a cell of the county jail. Yet the officers have no other recourse. A case of this nature recently came to our notice. The man was not violent, still it was hardly safe that he should be at large unguarded and unattended. Friends walked with him during the day but when night came on there was nothing for it but to lock the unfortunate man in the county jail. We have no doubt but that this treatment which is generally practiced in San Francisco, has sent hundreds of men and women to the Insane Asylum, whom a few days of gentle treatment would have restored to reason. We should not treat the unfortunate insane as though they were malcontents.

WE have no objection to our neighbor embracing the philosophy of SAMUEL JOHNSON in respect to Government. It is probably better than no philosophy at all, and particularly so for the adherents of the present administration, for in none other could they find comfort. But it is the duty of our neighbor to shield his party, and having no argument to advance, seeks to cover its iniquities with the mantle of JOHNSONIAN philosophy and other platitudes scarcely worthy attention.

NOTHING adds so much to the prosperity of a city or offers a greater inducement to families of wealth and influence to become her permanent residents, than good school facilities. These, Los Angeles is taking steps in the right direction to secure. Our school cannot be better conducted. They are well managed and a more efficient corps of teachers could not be desired; but we need a few more school buildings and these the Board of School Directors are preparing to provide. A school-house is sadly needed on the Eastern side of the river, and there are other districts where school buildings are wanted immediately. If the people vote the money asked for by the Board the city will soon be provided with all the school-houses requisite at present, and visitors will have no reason to complain of the crowded state of our public schools.

Sectional Jealousy.

The little jealousies that once existed between the Southern counties of California seems to have vanished like the early dew. Good will and fraternal relations are now, henceforth and forever to exist. This is right, and it is like the precious ointment upon the head and as the dew of Herman." Upon such the Lord commands the blessing, "Even life forevermore."

Now as we are a unit shall we not unitedly foster and energetically push forward to completion all the great enterprises calculated to make Southern California prosperous and desirable. The editors of San Bernardino and San Diego, speaking for their people, disclaim all feelings of envy, and we believe what they say; but as actions speak louder than words, and as there is now the best opportunity they will ever have to show their faith by their works, we invite them to unite with us in building a great highway by which the rich mineral wealth of the back country shall enrich all the plains of the sea. Come, brethren now or never.

Your Brother, JIM MUGGINS.

A new mining district has been organized in Napa county and is called Schrainburg.

The Herald.

One must always go away from home to hear the news. Looking over the Santa Barbara Index of the 11th instant, we see it announced as an ad vit that the Los Angeles HERALD is about to become a Republican journal. Justice to ourselves and our readers demand that we shall say a few words in response to the totally unfounded and, it seems to us, unwarranted statement of our Santa Barbara cotemporary. The HERALD has been, from the commencement of its present management, a thoroughly independent journal—independent in its views, political and otherwise. It has expressed itself freely and frankly on all questions and issues; and if its opinions have not at all times been such as to receive the cordial endorsement of the general public, they have at least received the acknowledgment of being honest and well meant in their intentions. The paper has made a specialty of writing up, in a truthful and unexaggerated manner, the vast resources of Los Angeles valley. In doing this, it has avoided discrimination in favor of or against locality—holding that we are one community with a community of interests, and that it is neither just nor politic to extol one section and disparage another. The agricultural resources of our rich and beautiful valley have received especial attention, and the articles on the soil, products and climate of Southern California have been the direct means of adding largely to the population of this part of the State. It has been our purpose to make the paper the representative and advocate of the best interests of Southern California. How well we have succeeded in this, the paper has been promptly furnished, California will get her supply without difficulty.

Senators Sargent and Jones called on the Commissioner of the General Land Office yesterday and protested against Sutro's application to have his tunnel-royalty clause inserted in the patent for all the mines in the Comstock lode.

The fight against Governor Axtell of Utah originated and has been promoted by ex-Governor Woods, in the hope of being reinstated. He is also trying to get the Superintendent of the San Francisco Mint, or some foreign Mission, but he is regarded as an impudent place-hunter, with no chance of success.

Engineer Drowned—Real Estate Ad- vancing in Portland.

PORTLAND, Oregon, March 15th.—B. Randall, the well known civil engineer, superintending the improvements on the Upper Columbia under charge of Gen. Michler, was drowned last Monday from a small skiff in which he had gone to inspect some work at Umatilla Rapids.

Real estate has materially advanced in prices since the reception of the news that the building of the Portland and Salt Lake road is highly probable.

SAFETY. San Francisco News.

SAFETY. San Francisco, March 17th.—At a meeting of the Board of Education last evening a long report was presented going over the testimony in the fraud investigation in detail, and closing by recommending the discharge of all teachers who had paid money to secure their positions or been guilty of any practices calculated to place members of the Board in a false position. The conduct of Director Bradley in borrowing money from a teacher, and maintaining such a close connection with Owens, ex-Janitor, is strongly censured. Five ladies and one gentleman were dismissed in accordance with the recommendation of the report. This ends the case in the Board. The matter will probably go before the Grand Jury.

The Coroner's jury, yesterday, in the case of Samuel E. Oakley, who died from the effects of laudanum, at the American Exchange Hotel on Sunday last, found a verdict of death by an accidental overdose.

In the case of Thomas Banks, on trial in the Fifteenth District Court for killing Isaac Beard, the jury yesterday returned a verdict of murder in the second degree.

Doubling Postage on Printed Matter.

WASHINGTON, March 15th.—The Postmaster-General disavows all knowledge of the legislation doubling the postage on printed matter until after Congress adjourned. Mr. Jewell expresses great regret that a careful examination leaves him no opportunity to suspend, modify or evade its provisions. Senator Hamlin, upon whose appeal and explanation of the amendment was passed, after Sergeant had moved to table it, made no mention of its effect on newspaper, and it was supposed to relate only to merchandise sent through the mails.

CHICAGO, March 15th.—A Washington special with regard to the retirement of Attorney-General Williams from the Cabinet, that Beck of Kentucky, in a conversation with a correspondent says that Williams' retirement is certain, as he will never wait till a Democratic House of Representatives assemble, as they would surely impeach him. Beck is represented as saying that the same facts that warranted the impeachment of Judge Durrell in New Orleans would be used in the impeachment of Williams, for he authorized the acts upon which Durrell's impeachment was based, and this

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

The Senator is due to-day.

The Orizaba sails for San Francisco.

Another lot of artesian pipe was shipped to Norwalk yesterday.

Lumber is being shipped for a hotel at Truxton.

The pay-car passed over the road yesterday, and the railroad employees are now rolling in wealth.

Mr. T. A. Glancey, formerly business manager of the HERALD, is in the city.

Two new coaches have been received by the Coast Line Stage Company, and will shortly be put on the line between Los Angeles and Panamint.

Messrs. Kimball & Company are now established in the newly fitted office, No. 100 Spring street, old Postoffice building.

THE PARADE.

In accordance with the published programme, the procession formed on Arcadia street shortly after noon and moved about 1 p.m.

The procession was headed by Desmond's brass band, re-enforced by a number of pieces from other bands of the city.

About 300 men formed the procession, and with their regalia, badges and standards, made a fine display.

At the head of the column the American and Irish flags were carried, and midway in line an elegant banner of the national color, ornamented with appropriate emblems and the motto in gold, "God Save Ireland."

The members of St. Patrick's Benevolent Society came first, wearing their beautiful regalia—a broad green sash across the left shoulder.

The members of the Irish-American Literary and Social Club followed, each having a neat and elegant badge, prepared expressly for the occasion.

A full description of the badge was given in our issue of yesterday, and does not need repetition.

The rest of the line was brought up by carriers, the orator and president of the day, the reverend Fathers of the Catholic Church, and other prominent citizens.

Mr. Henry King officiated as Marshal of the Day with Messrs. Thos. Desmond and James German as aids.

The line of march was taken up Main street to the Plaza, counter-march on Main street, down Main to Sixth street, along Sixth to Spring street, and up Spring to Turn-Verein Hall.

AT THE HALL.

A large concourse of people was already gathered on the arrival of the procession.

About half past 2 o'clock the exercises were commenced by the band playing "St. Patrick's Day."

Mr. Neagle, the president of ceremonies, then arose and delivered a very neat little speech, welcoming the auditors and referring briefly to the occasion which they were assembled to commemorate.

This was followed by a song, "Erin, My Country," rendered exquisitely by Mrs. McDonald, when the orator and King spoke.

Mr. Henry King officiated as Marshal of the Day with Messrs. Thos. Desmond and James German as aids.

The line of march was taken up Main street to the Plaza, counter-march on Main street, down Main to Sixth street, along Sixth to Spring street, and up Spring to Turn-Verein Hall.

THE ADDRESS.

The speaker premised by saying that he did not expect to present anything novel for the consideration of his auditors, but merely to revive old memories of facts which some may have forgotten, and which would encourage them to nobler exertion in the future.

In the words of Montague he had gathered a party of other men's flowers, the threads which binds them together only being his own.

He referred to the principles of government, the advance of civilization, and the rights of nations, and applied his deductions to the condition of Ireland, showing that she was not only oppressed during those ages when her best was held to be a natural right, but, in later times the same dark and bloody policy has been pursued, the same sophistries adduced in justification of her oppressors.

He questioned the right of sovereigns to enslave the body of man whose soul was created free and immortal by God.

Referring to the natural love of country, the speaker said: "He who could forget the land of his birth, the home of his dearest friends, would be truly heartless, but it must be admitted by all that Irishmen are free from this charge."

It may be that the north-stone's cold—

Perchance the frosty bare,

And that the loving ones of old

No longer share;

Yet, if my fancy can stray,

Across the ocean far,

To fair scenes of other days,

The old fireside of home,

Did space permit we would like to follow the orator through his address, which was crowded with interest from beginning to end, but with this brief mention we must reluctantly dismiss the subject.

Mr. White was frequently applauded in the course of his remarks, and it was plain to be seen that he elicited the highest interest in his auditors.

After the conclusion of the address, the band struck up.

THE WEARING OF THE GREEN.

An air ever held green in the memory of Irishmen.

Mrs. McDonald then sang "The Harp that once thro' Tara's Halls," the song being finely received.

After this came the "Star Spangled Banner," by the band, and the exercises were closed by a song, "God Save Ireland," rendered by Mrs. McDonald, Miss Maggie Bradley and Miss Sacriste.

The singing throughout was charming, and too much credit cannot be awarded Mrs. McDonald and the other participants for the parts which they sustained.

After the exercises the procession reformed and marched to Stearns' Hall, where the celebrants dispersed.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

How it was Celebrated by our Irish Citizens. The Parade—Ceremonies at the Hall. Address by Mr. Stephen M. White—Grand Ball at Night—Top o' the Mornin' to Ye!—And a Grand Time Generally.

The 17th of March ever wakes in the Irish breast feelings of patriotism; feelings which are intensified by the love of a country oppressed and a liberty denied in their own native land. Besides the great question of Ireland's rights and wrongs which the day brings to mind, there is a historical charm awakened, which furnishes additional zest to the occasion.

In the commemoration of this day, which has been handed down from generation to generation from the remote ages, there is combined a religious festival and a national holiday.

In America, the love of their native land not less brightly in the hearts of true Irishmen, nor loses strength by the allegiance which they pay to their adopted country.

In Los Angeles, the occasion was celebrated more appropriately yesterday.

EDUCATIONAL COLUMN.

in English dungeons. Thus ended the celebration of St. Patrick's Day, and we venture the assertion that many a city of greater proportions than Los Angeles did not better honor the occasion.

Mr. Bancroft, of the firm of Bancroft & Thayer, has returned to the city from San Francisco, where he has been engaged for the past month in having a map of Los Angeles engraved and printed. The map is from authentic and reliable surveys, and is the only official one published. Only a limited number were secured, and these will be sold at the mere cost—$4 each. Parties wishing them should call early at the office of Bancroft & Thayer.

At 2 p.m. the new Board met and proceeded to elect a Board of Directors for the ensuing year, commencing on the 11th instant. The meeting was called to order by Geo. C. Gibbs, President of the old Board. It being found that a majority of the stock was represented by those present, a ballot was taken, H. S. Orn and I. W. Lord acting as tellers, with the following result: Directors, L. J. Rose, J. M. Bassett, E. E. Hewitt, J. R. McConnell, H. J. Crow and Gabriel Allen. After the election of the new Board, the old Board adjourned sine die.

At 2 p.m. the new Board met and proceeded to organize by the election of H. M. Johnston President and J. M. Bassett Secretary. J. M. Bassett was elected editor-in-chief and general business manager of the paper for the term of one year.

An assessment of five per cent. on the capital stock was levied and the proper notice ordered given by publication in the HERALD.

Change in Postal Law.

TEACHERS should frequently and carefully read the following requirement of the California School Law. There is no part of their responsible work that calls for the exercise of more vigilance and prudence. Their success in training up virtuous men and women, good American citizens, depends more upon conscientious compliance with this, than with any other portion of the law.
